SIAM Classics in Applied Mathematics

Robert E. O'Malley, Jr., University of Washington, Editor-in-Chief

Books in the Classics series are monographs and textbooks that are of continued importance and interest to the mathematical community despite being declared out of print by their original publishers. SIAM publishes this series to ensure that the information presented in these texts is not lost to today's students and researchers.

Can't find your favorite book? If you have ideas or suggestions for books that would be appropriate for consideration, please contact Sara J. Murphy, Developmental Editor, at murphy@siam.org.
